

"The Garden of the Shah" a Wonderful Two Night Success

JUNIORS SHOW NARBERTH WHAT TALENT SHE IS FOSTERING BY PRESENTATION OF THREE-ACT MUSICAL COMEDY

We haven't a very clear idea as to just what "a garden of a shah" is like in real life, but "The Garden of the Shah," a three-act musical comedy, as interpreted by the members of the Junior's Woman's Community Club of Narberth, on the stage of the High School Auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings, proved to be a very delightful and charming place. Moreover, this particular "Garden" proved the members of the Junior Community Club to be a decidedly talented lot of young actresses, and the "oldest inhabitants"—if he witnessed either of the two performances—would, we are sure, declare that no better entertainment has ever been given in Narberth.

The Auditorium was filled both evenings and the enthusiastic applause that followed the songs, dances and lines bespoke the thorough appreciation of the people in the audiences.

The laurel wreath undoubtedly goes to Miss Augusta Witherow, who, besides playing the lead as Zolah, the daughter of the "Shah," personally coached and directed the entire show. And the success with which she accomplished both was equally apparent to all who feasted upon the beauty of the stage, and of the chorus, and who listened to the now soothing, now wondrously bewitching, and again "pop-pish" melodies. Miss Witherow's charming voice brought out to the fullest extent the beauty of the numbers which she rendered, and this, together with her charm and grace in acting, made her an ideal "Princess Zolah." Not less attractive was Lolah, her maid of honor, which was played by Marian Haws, and who was a close second to her mistress in winning the approval of the audience (and incidentally the Sheik.)

Nowabek, Zolah's nurse, a character part, was cleverly acted by Emma Mueller, who by her effective make-up, and her comically ardent protestations of love to "Sam" caused much appreciative mirth.

But the "heroes" were the treat! Kakkid-dad, tall, and straight, rosy-complexioned—and with sleekly brushed coiffures—and one even sporting a cute little black mustache—the girls in the audience lost their hearts completely, and the men turned green with envy. No wonder that Zolah and Lolah fell victims to their charms, and no wonder

ARDMORE POST OFFICE ADVANCED.

Postmaster A. L. Reinhold received advices this week from Washington that the Ardmore Post Office has been advanced from the rating of a second class to that of a first class post office. Its receipts during the past year were "between $40,000 and $50,000," which brought about the change in standing of the office.

The advancement of the grade of the office will not necessarily mean immediate changes, but makes the way open for increases and extensions of its scope.

Bryn Mawr Hospital Week Plans Announced

TAG-DAY AND MANY BENEFITS PARTICIPATED IN BY ENTIRE MAIN LINE

"I am helping the Bryn Mawr Hospital," is the slogan announced by the special committee to be used during the Bryn Mawr Hospital Week—the last week of May—along the entire Main Line in order to secure the interest of thousands of people in the hospital.

The officials of the hospital are anxious to secure the interest, co-operation and support of all the residents of the Main Line, and have them feel that the institution is always ready to serve the public. The hospital does not receive any State aid, but is maintained wholly by public contributions.

Ball games, tennis matches, and parties will be held as benefits. Many of the churches will take up a special collection for the support of the hospital.

The big feature of the week will be Tag Day—Saturday, May 28th.

Every station from Bala-Cynwyd to Devon is being organized, and when the day arrives, hundreds of young women will rally forth to tag shoppers, storekeepers, pedestrians, attendants of the movies, automobile riders, because it is felt that every human being in the district has an interest in an institution which cares for human suffering, and that they would like to express it in the form of a donation.

No one can tell when it may be necessary to use the institution. If the emergency should arise, we all can feel that there is a place within convenient distance for the accommodation of any one.

The Committee in charge is headed by Mrs. Alexander Brown and Mrs. Archibald Barklie. The Station Committees are in charge of the following chairmen:

Mrs. J. E. Morgan.....Bala-Cynwyd
Mrs. Herbert T. Herr, Jr., and Mrs. Webster Plasse.....Merion
Mrs. H. B. Smith.....Ardmore
Mrs. Walter Lowmes.....Gladwyn
Mrs. W. R. Philler.....Haverford
Mrs. J. K. Eisenbrey.....Rosemont
Mrs. G. C. Thayer.....Villa Nova
Mrs. J. Clifton Buck.....Devon

The Main Line Baseball League will play benefit games for the Bryn Mawr Hospital on May 28th and 30th.

Games on May 28th:
Narberth and St. Denis, at St. Denis Field, Ardmore.

Berwyn and Highland Park, at Highland Park.

Wayne and Bryn Mawr, at Bryn Mawr.

Games on May 30th:
Highland Park and Wayne, at Wayne.

Bryn Mawr and Narberth, at Narberth.

St. Denis and Berwyn, at Berwyn.

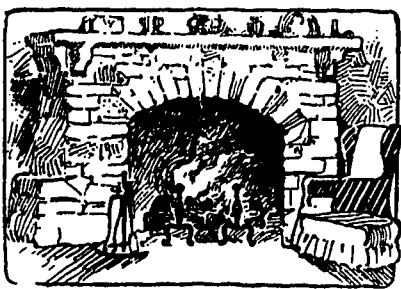

At all of these games the tag committees of the respective communities will be on hand to tag every spectator for the benefit of the hospital.

Women's Community Club Charter Luncheon

THURSDAY, MAY 19TH 1.00 P. M.

Thursday, May 19th, will be a day for all Charter Members of the Club to remember. On that day the club will become a Pennsylvania Corporation. It is hoped to have Mr. Muscoe M. Gibson present, to speak on the subject.

Mrs. H. Prentiss Nichols, president of the New Century Club of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Chester P. Martindale, president of the Chester Club, may be among the guests.

There will be a reception to the Board of Directors and the new officers of the club. This is the big closing event of the season, and it is hoped that all the members may be present for this jolly festive occasion.

Baseball Season Opens May 21st

NARBERTH PLAYS FIRST TWO GAMES AWAY—BRYN MAWR HOSPITAL BENEFIT GAME MEMORIAL DAY AT NARBERTH. COMPLETE SCHEDULE BELOW.

At a meeting of the Main Line League of Baseball Clubs, held at the Wayne Men's Club on the 9th, the schedule for the season of 1921 was approved. The season will be divided in two halves of ten games each, the winners of the first half to play a championship series with the winners of the second half.

The league, although a strictly amateur one, represents the best baseball talent in this section and deserves the full support of the people of the various communities on the Main Line.

The clubs at the meeting agreed unanimously to play a series of benefit games on May 28th and Memorial Day, the proceeds to go to the Bryn Mawr Hospital Fund which is being raised by every organization on the Main Line to support the hospital for the coming year.

While the admission to the games is only 25c, have an extra quarter ready—or, better still, a dollar bill—for the girls who will take the money and tag you, to show that you have a heart and more than a nickel to see a good ball game and help a most worthy cause.

CONVENTION HELD IN NARBERTH

At the Montgomery County Federation held at Narberth on May 5th, Miss Florence Dibert, the State President, reminded the women that it was the counties' responsibility to solve the State questions. She urged the understanding of the source of tax money and where it is placed. Women should be acquainted with the school directors and teachers. Miss Dibert advised inviting the teacher into the home as one would invite the head of his church. Although there are 500,000 women outside the clubs there are many more within. Such a number of women are of necessity a vital force in the State, and they should go among men and women saying what they desire to have changed or developed in the government. The majority of people outside these

BRYN MAWR HOSPITAL WEEK

On page one of this issue we print further information about the Bryn Mawr Hospital benefit week, the last of this month.

The scope of the activities to be undertaken at that time is so great that every one on the Main Line will have a chance to assist in some way.

Nearly everyone in Narberth knows what the Bryn Mawr Hospital is, and what it is doing. This hospital is the only one in the district, and handles cases of all kinds. It is Narberth's hospital, and its support and growth is of as great interest to Narberth as to the town of Bryn Mawr, or any other Main Line town.

Let us all get behind every phase of this big mobilization, and show that Narberth can do her share in a worthy and necessary cause.

HOME TALENT

We have had a great many excellent entertainments in Narberth this winter and spring. Almost without exception, they have been given entirely by home talent.

It is customary for a town to pat itself on the back when it "puts over" a particularly good entertainment but the real significance of the achievement lies in its recognition by the papers in the city.

In every case where Narberth successfully produces an entertainment with home talent, it acts as an advertisement for the town through its recognition by the Philadelphia papers. The enthusiastic reception given the products of our home talent these past few months gives promise of more and better programs in the future.

A HEAVY RAIN AT NARBERTH

The Co-operative Observer of the Weather Bureau reports that in the severe storm of last week 2.49 inches of rain fell, which is the greatest amount in twenty-four hours since August, 1919.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9.—The Pennsylvania Department of Forestry this spring has shipped 12,601 shade and ornamental trees from its four nurseries, for planting in various parts of the State. All of the trees were given free to other State Departments, State hospitals, shade tree commissions, school authorities, colleges, fresh air farms, and parks.

There were twenty species of trees represented in the shipment. The largest number were white pines, followed by elms, pitch pines, bank pines, and Norway Spruce. Most of the trees were suitable only for ornamental planting, not for street or shade trees. Consequently, the short supply of shade trees were exhausted early in the shipping season, and the Department of Forestry was obliged to refuse many applications for shade trees which it could not fill.

Twenty-two municipalities were given free 3,465 shade trees for planting along streets, in parks and for memorial purposes. To the public schools, there were given 747 trees for beautifying the grounds of twenty-six buildings. More than 2,500 trees were sent to churches, cemeteries, parks, and public institutions.

Colleges and fresh air farms planted 4,356 trees given to them by the Department of Forestry, and 1,852 trees were distributed to other State departments and State institutions for planting on property owned by the Commonwealth.

COMMUNITY CLUB NOTES

The Club Chorus has disbanded for the summer season. The Chorus has thoroughly enjoyed its work with Mrs. David Spratt. The members appreciate the able management of Mrs. A. B. Ross and her ability as a capable accompanist. The Chorus will renew its work in the Fall and may be counted upon to appear more frequently before the public.

The Club had a delightful trip to Valley Forge on Tuesday last. It was a surprise to many to find so splendid a chapel in this historic spot. It is built to perpetuate the memory of General Washington and those who served in the Revolutionary War and all subsequent wars. The chapel is always open to visitors and conducts almost daily services. The Club is indebted to the following members for the use of their automobiles: Mrs. W. H. Donaldson, Mrs. H. C. Fenno, Mrs. F. A. Guinivan, Mrs. George Gilpin, Mrs. Robert Nash, Mrs. W. W. Pierson, Mrs. A. P. Redifer, and Mrs. N. C. Rowley.

One of the members of the Club will conduct a bridge class for any desiring to learn the game or for those who wish to improve their present playing ability. The object of these classes is to have a social time and add to the building fund. The charge for a course will be very reasonable. The instructor of these classes has studied bridge for several years under capable professional teachers. For further information phone Narberth 370 J.

Communications

To the Editor of Our Town:

On noticing the letter in Our Town April 30th on "School Spirit," it seems necessary to explain matters as they have been throughout the year.

In previous years the faculty has co-operated with the High School, and tried to make the pupils feel that they were not in a prison. Not so this term. The teachers' minds were poisoned against us in the beginning of the year, and what can be done when they refuse to take any notice of the pupils?

There used to be activities of all kinds in which the teachers entered, and they were always doing something with the pupils to make them take interest. But now—how can there be spirit when they stay by themselves and don't even speak to us in the hall? There is only one answer: It can't be done.

The following Committee of ladies has been appointed to take charge of all the Shows held along the Main Line during this present year:

Mrs. Wm. T. Elliott, Chairman, Mrs. Richard L. Barrows, Mrs. Benjamin Bullock, Mrs. Sabin W. Colton, Jr., Mrs. Henry S. Jeanes, Mrs. Horatio G. Lloyd, Mrs. Stacy B. Lloyd, Mrs. Louis R. Page, Mrs. Frederick C. Stout, Mrs. Robert C. Wright.

Liberal prizes are offered at all these exhibitions, to encourage the general public to grow more plants and flowers and vegetables, and to grow better ones.

There will be another exhibition held early in June for Roses and Peonies, and one in September for Dahlias.

"THE GARDEN OF THE SHAH" A WONDERFUL TWO NIGHT SUCCESS

that their suits were successful in the face of such charming "manliness" and with such expressive manners of asserting their love. Winifred Williams made a "Bill Cummings" impossible for Lolah to resist, and Florentina Mueller, whose voice has all the beautiful qualities necessary to present the charming love-songs of which her numbers consisted, entranced others than "Zodah" with her excellent interpretation of the part of "Ted Harding," Mining Engineer.

Sam Johnson Jackson got the laughs! Spontaneous laughs too, not forced or polite chuckles—real, hearty appreciation of this clever comedienne! For clever she was, and not all of the little "hits" which Ruth Haws "put over" were down in the score, either. So you see, when ability and originality are thus combined, they cannot fail to make the rousing success which "Sam" did by his witty "cracks," his dandy dialect, and his snappy little songs.

Perunah, the Shah, was very grand and gorgeous in the person of Margaret Fowler, who very ably carried off the impersonation both in appearance and by her acting. Somceraba, the Sheik, was another humorous part well taken by Ella Dohard, whose stately bearing and costly garb and jewels impressed the audience far more than it seemed to affect the Princess or her Maid of Honor. For the poor Sheik lost out, despite his subtle humor and his five-hundred and ninety-nine wives to the good, for where American Engineers are in the running, what chance has a poor gorgeous Sheik with the fair sex? So the number of his wives still remains an uneven quantity, while the two engineers, and Sam are all made happy in the possessions of a beautiful Persian wife. And the Shah, who had almost lost his reason attempting to straighten out this puzzling household tangle, is pacified in the knowledge that "all's well that ends well"—and that he will never lack wealth with plenty of gold in his mines and plenty of power in sons-in-law to work them for him.

A charming little plot, a cast that just seemed to "grow" into it, and a chorus—but goodness, we almost forgot the chorus!—Fifteen Persian rosebuds—they were the prettiest flowers that ever grew—dancing in that loveliest of stage settings—in their pink, green, purple, blue, and every color harem garbs. Their beauty was only matched by their dancing, and their dancing by their songs. The famed Ziegfeld never had a prettier collection, and we know many a stage-door Johnnie succumbed last week.

As a final trimming to the cake, there was a wonderful Persian dance, by Thelma and Margaret Fowler, who looked as if they had just stepped from the pages of an oriental book, and who danced as though they'd been the "Shah's" favorite performers for years. Even with the encores which were demanded, this part of the program was all too short, and the storms of applause which followed it gave proof of its success.

And what was the inspiration of all this song and dance? Two perfect accompanists on two pianos whose notes were gay and rollicking, soft and sentimental together, played by two other members of the harem. Madeline McCoy and Emily Sibley. By their art and skill, they were the Pied Pipers who lured the chorus on to the pep and rhythm which characterized its steps and songs, and their music the background for the lovely songs of the east.

It was a case of a "part for everyone" and everyone in her part—splendidly done, and the best of praise is none too good for the company of "The Garden of the Shah."

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

GARDEN DAYS

The School of Horticulture for women at Ambler, Penna., is holding a series of Garden Days from May 7th to June 18th.

On Saturday afternoon, May 28th, a representative from the school will be on hand to demonstrate their work on model vegetable gardens in the garden of Mrs. Gideon Boerick, Lancaster Pike, 2nd Gate above Remington Road, Wynnewood, and in the garden of Mr. David E. Williams, St. Asaph Road, Bala.

Members interested in vegetable gardens will no doubt want to see and learn.

THE ECONOMIC VALUE OF BIRDS

One of the many lessons the war taught us was the close connection between high cost of food, and a scarcity of labor on our farms.

Yet we have a land army which works unceasingly from dawn to dusk through the growing season, whose value to man has never been appreciated. The birds indeed originated daylight saving; they do not organize into labor unions, and they never strike for higher wages. And without their aid no single crop would come to maturity.

Chester Reed, in his fine little field guide, gives us the results of his investigation of the work of the birds in Massachusetts. He carefully estimated the birds in several areas, and found not less than 5 to an acre. Multiplying by the square mile of territory, he found a bird population of not less than 25,000,000. Now since a bird's stomach is emptied quickly, and they feed continuously, it is safe to estimate 100 insects per day per bird.

Expressed in bushels and allowing 120,000 to a bushel, Mr. Reed states that the song birds of Massachusetts consume daily for five months in spring and summer, 21,000 bushels of mainly injurious insects.

Their work through the winter months in disposing of weed-seeds, eggs, and larvae will be discussed later.

THE STANLEY THEATRE

A new Paramount picture starring Thomas Meighan, widely known as the "good luck" star, will be shown at the Stanley Theatre, 19th and Market Streets, Philadelphia, the week of May 16th.

In this picture, "The City of Silent Men" is an unusually strong story in which the star essays one of the most sympathetic roles he has ever portrayed. He has the part of a bucolic young man who goes to the city, becomes the tool of two yegg men, and is convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence and sent to prison. The story shows his escape, the rebuilding of his life in the west, his persecution by hardened detectives and his final vindication.

Lois Wilson, who has played numerous leading female roles in Paramount Pictures, and who scored by her winning portrayals in "Mindsummer Madness," and "What Every Woman Knows," is Mr. Meighan's leading woman. Paul Everton and George MacQuarrie play a character and a heavy role, respectively, Mr. Everton essaying the role of Old Bill, a convict, and Mr. MacQuarrie, a detective. Kate Bruce plays Mrs. Montgomery, the boy's mother, and Guy Oliver is Mr. Bryant, the girl's father.

The minor roles are in excellent hands, Director Forman being careful to select only such types as best suited the characters portrayed.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MUSIC

old hymns, and the congregation has ample opportunity for joining in them. But many of us have little opportunity for hearing new music, and sometimes sigh for a change from the hymnal and the "little red hymn book."

Last Sunday's program was a splendid illustration of the drawing power of good, special music, both morning and evening. The bass solo of Mr. Russell H. Thomas, during the morning service, was enthusiastically commented on by many of the congregation. The program for the evening service appeared in last week's Our Town. Consequently, there was an unusually large attendance. The choir, Mrs. Ethel B. Rust, Soprano, Miss Edna M. Strong, Contralto, Mr. Henry G. Sparks, Tenor, Mr. Russell H. Thomas, Bass, assisted by Mrs. Richard Gifford, Soprano and Miss Anne Jackson, solo Violinist, under the direction of Mr. Lester W. Nickerson, Organist, gave a thoroughly musicianly performance, which was commended in glowing terms after the service by the congregation.

It is to be hoped that this enlightened policy will be continued, for two reasons. In the first place, good music will always draw good congregations. Many a good sermon has been preached to empty pews, because of the lack of a good musical program. Let it be known that special music will be given, and the pews are filled as though by magic. The other reason is that we have an exceptionally good, well-balanced choir, assembled with great care and fine discrimination. We cannot hope to hold this choir, unless it is given new, interesting and thoroughly high-class compositions, such as cannot be found between the covers of the regulation hymn books, to work on and present at the regular as well as at special services. There must be some things worth while to work on, or the choir will soon scatter.

This communication is inspired by remarks made by many of the members who appreciate and want good music at all times. It is to be hoped that the Committee will continue the policy so happily inaugurated, and we have no doubt it will. Music Lovers.

HIGH LIGHTS OF THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY FEDERATION.

clubs have little knowledge of the high goals for which club women are working.

Miss Dibert believes there are places where revolution is necessary, as it is necessary to go up against a stone wall and rebound to know the stone wall is there. She voiced the sentiments of many when she said she would like to see from ten to twenty women in the State Congress.

Finally, the future woman will be the result of the care of the girl of today. Girls must be made to feel that all labor is honorable; they must have their heads, hands and hearts educated, and as a part of it must have the beauty and joy of life as found in music, nature and art.

Miss Dibert came from Harrisburg especially to attend this convention, and Narberth women may well be proud of having been able to secure a woman upon whose time there are so many demands.

Miss A. MacDonald, Consulting Librarian, also from Harrisburg, told of "A New Conception of Library Service," as found in a county traveling library. This would be a means of bringing the best literature into the rural districts. As only forty per cent. of the population of the country have access to public libraries, it would aid in overcoming the twenty-five per cent. of illiterate, and further educate the ninety per cent. of pupils who stop school with the eighth grade. She quoted from John R. Commons, that the basis of qualification for a successful democracy is for the individual to be able to judge a question for himself, to be able to stand by the things he believes, and to be able to work with the majority even though he may not believe as they do.

Mrs. H. Barker, State Chairman of Juniors, explained "How a Junior Section Benefits a Club." There are four Junior Clubs among the sixteen clubs in Montgomery County.

Mrs. John V. Nolan, Chairman of Chester County, expressed a desire to see all clubs have only three general departments—Legislation, Education and Public Welfare.

The home club provided the entertainment of the afternoon, through their chorus. The chorus was heartily received, and served as an inspiration to establish club music throughout the county. Narberth is the only club in the county who can boast of a chorus.

Mrs. Robert Ralston, Chairman of the county, officiated at both sessions. Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, of the home club, gave the address of welcome. Mrs. C. P. Fowler is Secretary of the county and acted in that capacity. Mrs. Wm. Livingston was hostess of the day. Mrs. A. B. Ross, pianist, and Mr. David Spratt, conductor of the chorus. It was through the courtesy of the Presbyterian Church that the Narberth Club was able to make these delegates from all parts of Montgomery County, and the guests of honor, most comfortable.
